Skills Development Program
Adding Skills to Experience
Program Overview

Upholding positive and business relationships among colleagues, subordinates and superiors is the key to maintaining a successful work environment. This 20 hours workshop is designed to assist executives in developing their management and interpersonal skills. Participants will gain a greater understanding of their communication skills, negotiation techniques, tips on making an impact, and advice on networking and starting conversations.

Program Objectives/Outcomes

On the completion of this program, participants will be able to:

- Develop the key communications skills and the confidence to use them
- Understand how non-verbal communication helps in enchaining their interpersonal relationships
- Learn tips in preparing for a negotiation, opening a negotiation, bargaining, and closing a negotiation
- Identify the skills needed in starting a conversation, moving a conversation along, and progressing to higher levels of conversation
- Identify ways of sharing one’s opinions constructively

Who Should Attend

Customer representatives, IT & technical professionals, junior to mid level executives, managers or anyone who need to develop the interpersonal and communication skills necessary to communicate their knowledge to those around them.
