Program Overview:

This workshop is designed in response to numerous requests seeking our advice for complex local and global supplier negotiation situations. To serve the purpose, it exposes the participants to a rich reservoir of negotiation methods, guided by the sourcing chessboard, to help companies increase value with suppliers. Sourcing chessboard is a renowned and proven tool that can turn procurement into an exciting place to be in a company. This workshop will not only focus on abstract and supplier-centered negotiation, but will also enable the participants to experience it via small and large group supplier negotiation role-plays and individualized feedbacks from expert-faculty. Because of its personalized nature, this workshop is limited to 20 delegates. Through this transformational experience, companies and individuals can take their "Sourcing Negotiation Talent" to the next level, where they can confidently handle the complexities of the supplier negotiation game. Another advantage is the exposure to content backed by globally renowned sourcing bodies (such as CIPS, UK and ISM, USA) along with lots of local and global cases.
